

for the relatives and most intimate friends the happy couple left on the 10:30 train for the northwest, where they will spend the coming month.

One of the pretty home weddings of the week was that of Miss Edna Svenson and Mr. William Grimsdell, which took place at the home of the bride's mother last Monday evening. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Thorpe and was witnessed by only the immediate family. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served, and the good wishes of the guests were extended to the young people. The home was prettily decorated, the parlor in white and yellow, while pink and white flowers graced the other rooms. The bride wore a dainty gown of white panne crepe, with trimmings of Duchesse lace and liberty silk, and carried white brides' roses. Later Mr. and Mrs. Grimsdell left for a trip to Denver and Omaha. They will be at home after the 1st of the month in their new home on Tenth East street.

Coming Events.

The week's society affairs will open with the large receptions tomorrow and Tuesday evenings at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kearns. A great many invitations have been issued, and the events are to be of the greatest importance in a social way.

The Clavier quartette, consisting of Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Loomis, Mrs. Putnam and Miss Morris, will give a musical reception Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Putnam on Eighth East street.

Mrs. H. G. Whitney will entertain at a Kensington Tuesday afternoon and at cards Friday evening.

Mrs. E. W. Whitney will entertain at two large afternoon card parties on the 25th and 26th of the month.

Mrs. Robert Glendinning will give a large card party Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. H. N. Mayo entertains the Sewing club next Wednesday.

Miss Lucy Lattimer and Mrs. A. M. Rust will entertain next Friday afternoon at a Kensington in honor of Miss Emma McIntyre.

Mrs. L. M. Earl will entertain next Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Paddel of New York City, and Miss Fahey of Wallingford, Conn.

Mrs. Emma Spencer will entertain at an afternoon party next Saturday in honor of Mrs. Ardelle Cummings.

At Luncheon.

Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes was the hostess Monday at a very prettily appointed luncheon at the Amelia palace. The table formed a very attractive picture with its wealth of silver and cut glass and a handsome centerpiece of rare lace. The colors used were pink and white, and the flowers chosen for the effect were chrysanthemums. Covers were laid for six.

Theatre Party.

Mrs. Victor M. Clement gave a very pleasant luncheon on Friday in honor of Mrs. Burns-Macdonald, who is her guest. The same evening Mrs. Clement entertained a large party of ladies at the play, the latter event being also in honor of Mrs. Macdonald. The ladies of the party were Mrs. George V. Wallace, Mrs. Harkness, Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Hanauer, Mrs. Dooley, Madame Pfoutz, Mrs. Keith, Mrs. Miner, Mrs. Wither, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Southwell, Mrs. Bancroft, Miss Keogh and Miss Woodward.

Delightful Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Daggett entertained at a delightful home dinner last evening, at which covers were laid for fourteen. The table decorations were pink, a handsome scarf of Russian lace over pink forming the centerpiece. On this a vase of pink roses sat, and the same flowers were used as favors at the places. The guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taggart, Dr. and Mrs. T. Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bidwell, Miss Neill and Mr. Woodward.

For a Guest.

Mrs. Burns Macdonald was the guest of honor Monday at a very charmingly appointed dinner given by Mrs. Victor M. Clement. The guests were seated at the round table, and the decorations and all appointments were in pink. A handsome piece of lace formed a centerpiece on which was a beautiful bank of pink roses. Place cards done in the same color were used, and covers were laid for eight, there being present to meet Mrs. Macdonald, Judge and Mrs. Powers, Judge and Mrs. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Windsor V. Rice.

Luncheon and Matinee Party.

Miss Edith Sutherland was the hostess at a matinee party, delightfully chaperoned by Mrs. Sutherland, at the Saturday performance of "Kiss Me," the party occupying stalls C and D. The matinee was preceded by a pink and white luncheon at the Kenyon, served in the north drawing room, where covers were laid for twelve. The table was effectively decorated in smilax and pink and white roses and carnations. Each guest received a dainty box of bonbons as a souvenir. Those present were: Maud Miller, Elsie Ridge, Allyn Weeks, Rose Moech, Florence Donahue, Flora Wiseman, Marie Berckhoel, Lulu Shorb, Edith Coxhead, Hazle Cogan, Edith Sutherland and Mrs. Sutherland.

At Dinner.

Mrs. Dora Young Haven of Pasadena was the guest of honor at a very beautifully arranged dinner given Wednesday evening by her sister, Mrs. Sanborn. The table was exquisitely decorated in white and green, white carnations and asparagus plumosa ferns being used. The place cards were the daintiest of souvenirs, and the dinner was a delicious one. After the courses a guessing game was played in which the prizes were won by Mrs. R. C. Easton, Mrs. Ruth Healy and Mrs. Abbot C. Young. The other guests present were Mrs. Carlisle Y. Cannon, Mrs. Mairia Y. Douglas, Mrs. Beattie, Mrs. Emily Davis, Mrs. M. Y. Rossiter, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. J. D. Spencer, Mrs. Emily Clawson and Mrs. Lucy B. Young.

At Cards.

A very beautifully appointed card party was that given last Tuesday afternoon at the Knutsford at which Mrs. Windsor V. Rice was the hostess. The two parlors where the guests were received were beautifully decorated, one in American Beauties and one in tall white chrysanthemums. The tables for cards were arranged in the two parlors south of the dining room, and these were decorated with bright yellow chrysanthemums and smilax. A heavy portiere of the smilax separated the room and vases of the flowers decorated the tables. Eighteen tables were filled with guests and sixty-three was played. Mrs. Rice was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Southwell, Mrs. Ferris and Mrs. Finback. Prizes were won by Mrs. David S. Murray, Miss Judge and Mrs. Kenneth C. Park.

At Cards.

Mrs. W. Scott Crismon was the guest of honor at a very charmingly appointed card party given by Mrs. W. W. Ritter last Thursday afternoon. The colors used in the decoration of the house, which was most artistic, were white and pale green, and for the tallies and score cards, dainty Gibson sketches in pen and ink were used. At the conclusion of the game the small tables which were used for refreshments were lighted with handsome candleholders bearing green candles and shades. During the afternoon several choice musical selections were rendered by Miss Mary Olive Gray. Prizes were won by Mrs. William H. Dale, Mrs. Ezra Thompson and Mrs. Frank Jennings.

Two Pleasant Parties.

Mrs. F. L. Oswald was the hostess at two very delightful afternoon card parties Wednesday and Thursday of the past week. The pretty home was artistically decorated, the hall being in green and white. In the parlor tall yellow chrysanthemums were used, and in the dining room pink carnations and bows of pink satin ribbon formed the decoration. Euchre was the game played, and small counters were placed in the euchre pockets. The first prize was won by Mrs. Southwell and the lone hand prize by Mrs. R. D. Grant.

At the Thursday affair the same game was enjoyed, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Hinman and Mrs. Karl Roberts.

Reception.

One of the large and brilliant affairs of the week was the reception Wednesday evening given by Dr. and Mrs. Beattie and Mr. and Mrs. Joy Johnson at the home of the former. The pretty home was beautifully decorated for the affair, the parlor in a wealth of rich green of palms. In the library pink red chrysanthemums were used, and in the dining room white and pale green were the colors. From the upper hall came the sweet strains of music, and at a corner in the lower hall Miss Leta McMillan served punch. The receiving party was assisted by Mrs. John Hinman, Mrs. Dinahy and Mrs. C. O. Whittemore. In the dining room Mrs. F. D. Bickford poured coffee, and she was assisted by the Misses Dern, Paul, Kimball and Lawson.

Evening Party.

One of the prettiest of the week's events was the reception given Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clawson. The host and hostess were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Selden I. Clawson, Mrs. John Spencer and Mrs. John Groesbeck, Jr., and the home was filled with the friends of the receiving party. The house was prettily decorated, the hall in green and the rooms surrounding in harmonious colors. In the parlor white and green were the colors, while the library was all in red. White and green were combined in the decoration of the dining room, where the large table was covered with a piece of exquisite lace holding a bank of green ferns and smilax. Mrs. N. W. Clayton, with the Misses Catherine Culmer, Mary Young, Emma Morris and Jennings, had charge of the dining room, and in a corner of the library Mrs. Frank Jennings served punch. Delightful music was furnished by an orchestra stationed in the library.
